

2013 ASAA All-State Art Competition

Date: September 7, 2012

The ASAA/First National Bank All-State Art Competition was a success, ASAA will continue with the online format for the 2013 art competition. We learned a lot and hoped to make it even better. The All-State Art Competition will take place online at a dedicated ASAA art website. The ASAA Board of Directors approved this change in order to increase participation and ensure the long term success of the competition. This follows a growing trend with many other Art competitions.

The purpose of the online All-State Art Competition is to offer Alaskan students an opportunity to present their creative talent in a juried art show with the tutelage of an art instructor and compete with other high school students. Art instructors will be able to submit photos of the student's art via a convenient online form. Awards will be presented for outstanding and original works and certificates will be presented to all participants. All juried art submissions will be displayed at ASAA's art website – <http://artalaska.org>
